Press Release

Introducing The Phoenix and the Carpet Newest Personalized Full-Length Children's Novel

October 15, 2007 - Book By You[®] today announced the release of its latest full-length personalized children's novel, The Phoenix and the Carpet. This Book By You[®] novel is the company's fourteenth personalized title and is the fifth offering for the company's Kids Book By You division, the first publishing venture in the world to offer full-length personalized novels.

From a heart-pounding journey over the ocean on a magic carpet to hilarious misadventures while surrounded by hundreds of pets, The Phoenix and the Carpet is a nonstop rollercoaster ride for the young and young-at-heart. The excitement begins when two children (both characters which can be personalized) discover a magic carpet and an egg that hatches into a Phoenix, a helpful but amusingly egocentric talking bird who can't understand why everyone isn't worshipping its magnificence!

When the Phoenix reveals that the magic carpet will grant our dynamic duo three wishes a day, they launch themselves into many adventures ... often ending in unexpected predicaments. Their antics cause a stir wherever they go, but thanks to their wits, and with help from the Phoenix, the children overcome many challenges.

This fresh, funny personalized novel is written for ages 6 - 12, and is ideal for parents wanting to motivate their children to read full-length books. Based on Edith Nesbit's classic children's fantasy novel written in 1904, The Phoenix and the Carpet is the third of a trilogy of Nesbit novels updated, edited and personalized by Book By You[®], beginning with Two Children and It and followed by The Amulet. Themes such as the value of friendship, perseverance and following your dreams are explored and uniquely presented in a manner only possible through a full-length personalized story.

The Phoenix and the Carpet is a 130-page novel that has 19 features to personalize. Adults and children co-author the book by selecting the leading role and including friends, relatives or even television stars. The character questionnaire, available on the Book By You[®] website, is fun and easy to complete with three main characters and features such as hair color and length, eye color – even a pet. Readers can also add to the personalization of this beautifully bound paperback by uploading a picture and having it included on the back cover.

The Phoenix and the Carpet can be purchased for $24.95. For more details and a free personalized preview visit the company's website at www.BookByYou.com.

###

For interview requests contact:

Michael Pocock, Publisher Book By You Publishing 485 Queens Avenue London, Ontario Canada, N6B 1Y3